

Second Season of Train Nostalgia and Mountain Scenery

Fall is the picturesque mountain season at the Western Maryland Scenic Railroad, which is also the season for the railroad's annual train operation. The scenic railroad, which carries 250 passengers on a seven-mile round-trip from Cumberland to the town of Frostburg, is the last addition to a growing tourism industry in the scenic Potomac River highlands.

Located in a series of mountain valleys about two hours west of Washington, D.C., the railroad is a major attraction in the early days of travel. The scenic railroad is a growing tourism industry in the scenic Potomac River highlands.

The region traces its history back to the Potomac and Indian Wars and was an important branch of the railroad system. The railroad is a major attraction in the early days of travel. The scenic railroad is a growing tourism industry in the scenic Potomac River highlands.
